Welcome to the Castle Rieneck Campsite

The Spessart offers you marvellous surroundings to camp, walk, cycle and simply enjoy nature in. Our campsite is situated in this lovely corner of the world, right next to Castle Rieneck.

General

The Castle's campsite may be small, but it's very special.

It is divided into two main sites and a few smaller areas. As is well known, they used to build castles on hills – and ours is over 800 years old – which means that the space is somewhat limited. You may have to pitch the tents a bit closer together than you would normally do for once: but where else can you camp directly below a keep? Because the site is relatively small, we give priority to Scout and Guide groups. Only Scout and Guides can make longer term bookings for the months of July and August, in other months the site is open to all. Normally campsite groups are self catering, but it is usually possible to make exceptions or to arrange a combination of self-catering and meals from the castle if this is discussed with us well in advance.

Prices and Conditions

A stay on the campsite costs EUR 4.00 per person per night for Scouts and Guides; EUR 5.00 per person per night for others. This price includes the following services: use of an area of the site for camping and activities; and use of the infrastructure, such as a modern wash-house (with shower/ toilets/ wash-hand-basins, larder, fridge, sinks etc), a fire-place with large campfire circle. We can also provide free use of tent-poles for yurts and kohte-type tents, pioneering-type poles for building, and a suitable number of trestle tables and benches for the group size. All the programme activities can be booked under the conditions described in this booklet – that is, many of them are free. We also have 2 fire altars which we can lend out if required. In exceptional circumstances the Castle's rooms (eg. the Knight's Hall) may be used by campsite groups, but here the house guests have priority.
